The Daily Nonsense

By Sammy Claterbos

This year was different from in the past. On Sunday afternoon students from all classes gathered with their class mates to decorate doors and halls,and to practice lip syncs and class skits for homecoming week. Some students only came for an hour and went to work others came for four hours. Some came only to decorate, others came only to practice their lip sync and skit. By the end of the day the school was full of colorful posters and decorations. Going along with the theme Time After Time, some of the classes went with the future look and others went with the blast from the past.

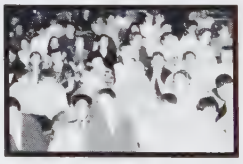
Homecoming

The Daily Nonsense

By Julie Pohl



Wake Up And Walk Day was the first day of the greatly anticipated Homecoming Week. Students walking through the halls that morning were able to see the finished product of Sunday's decorating. This years theme is "Time after Time." Today was the traditional wake-up and walk day, everyone came in their pajamas and slippers. Some people even brought along their blankets and beds. Junior Olympics began with the orange pass. Seniors struggled, but they still managed to win. The second game was threading a spoon down the shirt and pants of each team member. The winner was again the Class of '99. The best dressed guy and girl competition was won by Seniors Kris Thornhill and JoLee Sturgell. Next, the new royalty played the wheel-barrel game, pushing an egg across the gym floor using only their noses. Sophomores Blair Manke and Sonnie Sjostrom came in first place. To finish off the assembly we had a spirit competition , the Freshmen took first place. All and all, Wake Up & Walk Day was a great start to Homecoming Week.

The Daily Nonsense

By Molly Young

Today was a new theme from events in the past years. Students wore their clothes inside-out and backwards. Many students dressed up with crazy clothes and accessories including clown shoes, leotards, wigs, tu-tus, 80's make-up, and anything else imaginable. The winners for best dressed were Junior girl Richelle Garcia and Senior boy Kris Thornhill. When it came down to Junior olympics the seniors took the lead in both games. First was "Use Your Head" where a boy and a girl had to carry a volleyball using only their heads. Seniors placed first, followed by Juniors then Freshmen. The Sophmores did not place because they did not finish. The next game, lip service, was one that we play every year. Three girls and three boys from each class came down and lip sang and danced to random songs. The winners were the Senior class followed by Juniors, Freshman, and then Sophmores. Seniors and Freshman tied in the spirit competition with the Juniors in second and third were the Sophmores.

Today was Class Unity Day. The Seniors wore black, Juniors white, Sophomores red, and Freshmen wore blue. The Junior and Sophomore boys and girls tore it up in the dress up competition by tying with each other. Four students from each class got the chance to cover their teachers in toilet paper. Freshmen placed first after covering Mr. Wolfe with toilet paper. For the next game, a girl from each class put shaving cream on her face and two boys threw 3-D Doritos on them. The judges counted 32 Doritos on Dayna Plummer's face, so the seniors won first place. The last game of the day was an ice cream eating contest. A girl from each class had to feed their blindfolded boy classmate, then run to the other side of the gym pop a balloon to win. The seniors were 1st again!

As Thursday rolled around Homecoming Week was well under way. Thursday was "Blast From The Past." Students wore clothes from many different eras, one was all the way from the stone age. The first activity was the spirit competition, which the Seniors placed first. The game was tug of war. Each class selected their five strongest guys and girls. Through the process of elimination Seniors took first, then Freshman, Juniors, and coming in last was the Sophmores. For the best dressed girls, Senior Julie Pohl and Sophmore Lindsey Forney tied. The best dressed guys were Junior Doug Stevens and Sophmore Jarrod Thebiay.The next and last activity was the class lip syncs. Tonight was also the mandatory attendance volleyball game, between our mighty Warrior Girls and City Christian. It was a very intense game, and the Warriors proved us proud. The final score was 16 to 14. Immediatly following the game was the highly anticipated bonfire. The bonfire was full of excitement. As Thursday activities came to a close, students were highly anticipating the next days activities.

Purple and White Day was the last day to show off school spirit during homecoming week. The majority of us came wearing WHS football jersies, t-shirts, cheerleading outfits, and sweatshirts elaborately colored in purple and white. The best dressed were freshman boy Jarrod Hudson and junior girl Jessica Johnson. The cheerleaders did a stunt for the school and then lead their class in the spirit competition. Junior cheerleaders must have done a good job because they placed first in the competition. All the football players were called up to learn and perform the "color shout" cheer. They even got the coaches involved. The skit competition replaced junior olympics. The skits were required to involve the theme "Time After Time" and had a certain time limit. The freshman class went first with a game show that had questions dealing with the past. The sophomore class had a skit that went throughout history starting with the cave age to the present with background music for each era. Junior class put on "Back to the Future" with Doc and McFly crashing into different events in the history of Warrenton High School . Seniors played their own creative version of Hollywood Squares with guests like Vanilla Ice, Ginger Spice, and Alfalfa. The winners for the skit were announced at the football game along with the final results of the spirit competiton.

October 23 was our Homecoming football game. The first cheers of the crowd signaled that the Warrenton Warriors and Portland Christian Royals were going head to head. With numerous cheers and screams from the fans the Warriors were ahead at the end of the first half. The winners of Homecoming week were ready to be announced. In fourth place were sophomores. In third place freshman. Second place were the juniors. And, for the second year in a row the class of 99' recieved first place. Then it was time for the princesses to be in the spotlight. The princesses were announced as they drove onto the field escorted by their fathers. This was the moment that all were waiting with anticipation, who would be this years queen? As all the fathers opened the bags the winning balloons floated out of Carrie Bergerson's bag. The second half of the game was beginning with the Warriors in the lead. The crowds cheers of excitement led to the end of the fourth quarter. The final score was 61 to 21. Again, the mighty Warriors won another victory!

On Saturday October 24, 1998 Warrenton High School had it's Homecoming Dance. The dance was held in the high school gym. The great decorations were done by the set design class. Mr. Hackwith and class are to be commended for all their hard work. Tickets cost ten dollars stag and eighteen dollars per couple. Pictures were taken by Photo Run for a great price. The theme of this years Homecoming dance was Time After Time by Cindy Lauper. It was just another expensive dance, some peoples' first and some peoples' last. But the memories were priceless in a sense that they can never be duplicated. You just had to be there.

Tough guys! Ronnie Dugan, Josh Marshall, and Josh Hobbs show that they're pumped up for the race!

This years cross-country team was composed of four guys (Seniors Josh Marshall, Ronnie Dugan, Kris Thornhill, and Freshman Josh Hobbes) and four girls (Junior Priscilla Russell, and Sophomores Rachel Morton, Meredith Flynn, and Alison Flynn. They were coached by Kay Rannow. Everybody had a good time and did great. Everyone improved their best times at almost every meet.

One of the most enjoyable meets was the Catlin Gable handicapper. Everybody put in their best time and were started at different times so that everybody would finish at about the same time if they ran at their full potential. This meet was great because five of the six members who went finished in the top ten.

As well as meets most of the team ran in the Great Columbia Crossing, a 10km(6.4mi.) race that started in Washington, crossed the bridge into Astoria, and finished at pier 2 in Astoria. Seniors Josh Marshall, Sammy Claterbos, and Kris Thornhill, coach Kay Rannow, and former WHS student Kim Horn teamed up to run in the Civil War Relay, a challenging 50 mile relay race from U of O in Eugene to OSU in Corvalis. As with the rest of the season, we ran hard and had a great time!

They're off! The WHS girls cross-country team start their league race at Camp Rilea. In that race, Rachel Morton took fourth place.

1998 Volleyball Season

The 1998 volleyball team had a great season. A lot of talented freshmen came to join, they were a positive addition to all three teams. The varsity made it to the tie breaker games to play for a chance to make it to the playoffs. Despite the sad loss the girls still had fun and worked hard. With a freshman making varsity and having many swing players on the team the volleyball players had to learn to work together and ended up becoming good friends at the same time.

Not only did the players have fun, but the coaches did too. At the annual BBQ the coaches of all three teams told funny memories and jokes about the girls during the season. They also gave awards and gifts to each player on the teams. Family and friends were also invited to come and eat and they had lots of fun.

The 1998 volleyball season will always be a time to remember. Through all the wins and losses the girls stuck together and became close friends. The away games were the most enjoyed times of all. This is where the girls really had fun, to the drive-through at McDonalds and men hitting on them, to the bus rides home. Oh, and don't forget the anual BBQ! Through it all, the season turned out to be fun and exciting!

Encouraging her team, varsity coach Mrs. Dick lead the Warriors to another victory. Mrs.Dick- "A seaso of starting over. The best win was against City Chris tian, because they were at the top of the league and w beat them."

FOOTBALL

Are they discussing their next play or checking out a cute babe? Either way Troy Buganan and Dusty McGrorty know how to play the field!

What a great season the Warriors had this year! The 1998 Warrenton High football team kicked butt with only one loss during the season. Dusty McGrorty ran over 2,500 yards throughout all of the games. But don't forget the other players that made it possible by tackling the other team. With lots of freshmen on the team, it seemed that they might not be strong enough to handle all the other teams. But they proved all the skeptics wrong. Many of our players made All State, All League, and Honorable Mention for class 2A.

Watching the other team, Wesley Balensifer waits for the other team to bring on the big boys.

With one of his many devoted fans, Dusty McGrorty takes a little time to share a smile for the camera.

Look at that guy go! Off on one of his many wild and crazy sprints, Dusty McGrorty runs down the field to score a touchdown.

RALLY SQUAD

The 1998 Football Rally Squad did a great job getting the crowd revved up for the games. The coaches Michelle Wolfe, Leanne Anderson and Gail Manke did a great job of preparing the girls to do their best and show their spirit. They put out a lot of support for our team, and boy did it show! From making locker posters to pep rallies , it seemed as if they were always doing something for the teams. Who could forget the great cheers and stunts during pep rallies? And the way they cheered for the teams during games? They will be remembered for their enthusiasm and school spirit.

Nervously awaiting their first appearance in front of the student body, Sonnie Sjostrom, Marisa Iverson, Wendy Bue, Vanessa Dichari, and Jared Hudson prepare to cheer their little hearts out.

Are you looking at my pom-poms? Robin Waring looks pretty peppy with her purple pom-poms.

Warmed Up, the rally squad: Brandi Gittins, Robin Waring, Tenzin Tsering, Chrystа Morris, Rainie Comstock, Sonnie Sjostrom, Heidi Terese, Britt Manke, Vanessa Dichari, Wendy Bue, Randi Page, Jared Peeples, Jared Hudson, and Candie Burkleo are ready for the first big game.

What made you join Rally Squad?
"I thought it would be fun" -Wendy Bue
"Sonnie made me" -Chrysta Morris
"It's awesome" -Heidi Terese

What is the best part of being on Rally Squad?
"Watching the football players do cheers" -Rainie Comstock
"Going on away games" -Chrysta Morris
"The recognition" -Marisa Iverson

What is your favorite cheer ?
"We Don't Mess Around" -Rainie Comstock
"Color Shout" -Wendy Bue
"Go, Fight, Win Tonight" -Marisa Iverson

What's it like being a guy on the team?
"It was cool because people would ask me why I was in cheerleading instead of football."-Jared Hudson
"It was a very eye opening, enlightening experience and I feel more complete as a human being because of it."-Jared Peeples

We are the Warriors couldn't be prouder, if you can't hear Jared Peeples and Jared Hudson they'll yell a little louder.

Who's that Warrior? Oh, it's Jared Hudson with Chrysta Morris and Amy Collins.

Holding on tight
Ryan Johnson wrestles against Neah-Kah-Nie to defend his Warrenton title. Ryan placed 3rd in the 1-2-A Distict Meet in Knappa.

"The wrestlers finished the season with two undefeated state champions, Dusty McGrorty and Wes Balensifer. Three seniors; Dusty, Wes, and Ryan Johnson graduated as State Champs, Coby Marshall placed third to round out the best Warrior Wrestling team ever. The seniors will be missed, but the seven freshmen lettermen may very well surpass their records in the years to come."

Paying close attention The team listens closely as Coach Boye informs them of the next play. A combination of great coaching, good players, and lots of dedication brought our team to the playoffs this year.

Break out the bellies! Coby Marshall, Josh Dunn, and Tony Coulombe were the self-titled "Fat Guys" that took over the position of cheerleaders at several home games. The Fat Guys led cheers, performed somersaults, cartwheels, and showed off their bellies to get the crowd fired up.

Going up strong Peter Blodgett soars by the opposing team on his way to make another basket.

Do we scare you? Brothers Ryan and Jarod Thebiay both give us their most intimidating looks. Together they played on the varsity team this season.

"300 miles isn't bad for a team that wasn't supposed to go anywhere"
Peter Blodgett(referring to the state playoffs in Pendelton).

Sleepy and Pumped up, those are just two words that describe Tim Cavett and Ryan Everson.

Stealing the ball, Rigzin Topygal makes a break for the basket.

Eyes on the ball Brian Bruney plays good defense on a Nestucca player. Good defense is a big reason why the team made it to the state playoffs this year.

Getting ready to warm up, Meredith Flynn, Shaena Stabler, JoLee Sturgell, Dionne Neahring, and Emily Johnson clap their hands.

The 1998-99 girl's basketball team had a great season. They were the Northwest League champions. They had a good time and had many wins. When it came time for district playoffs, everyone had high hopes. But the playoffs took a turn for the worse. The girls had disappointing losses against City Christian and Portland Christian. But the players worked hard and we are proud of them anyways.

Soaring over the Portland Lutheran defense, Meredith Flynn scores a basket to help the Warriors to one of their many wins this season.

Practicing her shot before the game, Dionne Neahring stares at the basket, willing the ball to go through the hoop.

Goodbye Warriors, hello NBA! Meredith Flynn is just about ready to take on the big boys.

This year's golf team was a small one. The '98-'99 Golf team consisted of only 4 people. They were Kris Tucker, Schaid Shaw, Brandon Wilson, and Greg Hitchman. They had few tournaments this season, but unfortunatly they didn't have enough members to be a serious competitor. They all did a great job, and improved greatly.

Band

Notes that make sense!

Do you hear all the noises in the hall during 4th block on A days, and think there is a ghost haunting the school? It's not ghosts you hear, it's only the band class. They might sound strange during rehearsal, but all their hard work pays off at concerts, festivals, and competitions. Mr. Ogren works to make the class fun with pep music, but you must learn to advance in your music career, so you have to play classical and challenging music. Every year, the band has an opportunity to go to Western Oregon University in Monmouth for a band festival. It's there that everyone's hard work pays off!

Trying not to be blinded
Tim Cavett, Tony Columbe and Andy Wintersteen play "Kentucky Pride" as if they were at Monmouth in a competition.

"What I look forward to the most is the sectionals!"

-- Mr. Ogren

Why do band members attend sectionals?
In order for a band to be successful, everyone must work as a whole. The sectionals target each individuals strengths and weaknesses.

Grooving on a drum or two
George Nitsche attempts to adjust the high-hat to fit his needs. I guess he always wanted to be a percussionist!

Choir
Words with sensibility

Did you know that music is literature? It is, check the dictionary under choir. When you go past the classroom door you hear muffled words, but once you go inside, you hear beautiful music. This year the choir was very fortunate to have a guest pianist accompany them. It gave Mr. Ogren a chance to help more, instead of always being behind the piano. During spring, the choir went to the Northwest League Choir Festival at the Clatsop Community College Performing Arts Center. This year, Warrenton did a great job singing and got high scores!

Mix-up
For this particular song, the choir was in a mix-up setup, which means to be out of order. Here you can see that the tenor and bass selection are blended with the altos.

Firing in the Furnace...
Andrew Dyer sings his solo for "Fire in the Furnace".

A Sense of Honor

By Dru Mickelson and Samantha Scott

The Honor Society added three sophomore girls as new members this school year. Like every year they held the traditional installation, audienced by students and teachers of the high school. They were brought into the group by candle light and an oath. This time there was a special guest speaker. Jennifer Sisco-Moore, Miss Oregon '98, gave an encouraging speech and sang. The society also worked on a project involving Dornbecher Children's Hospital.

The members of the 98-99 Honor Society: Jared Peeples, JoLee Sturgell, Miss Oregon Jennifer Sisco-Moore, Regina Hansen, Wendy Bandeen, Samantha Claterbos, Advisor Gayle Whitney, Sarah Knippa, Julie Fitzpatrick, Dionne Neahring, Nikki Haupt, Vicki Cox.

Relaxing after their candle lighting and oath into the society are Julie Fitzpatrick, Vicki Cox and Sarah Knippa.

After discussing the trait of character, treasurer Jared Peeples lights his candle and places it in the holder.

During the candle burning ceremony, the national Honor Society Officers stand before giving their individual speeches.

Giving her speech, Miss Oregon Jennifer Sisco-Moore gave an experienced word to the students before she sang a song that meant a lot to her since she was in high school.

In the Most Dramatic Sense

What are the symptoms of love?
Feeling like 4,000 grasshoppers doing a square dance in your underpants! This cast understands the meaning as Head (Randi Page) is reunited with her body and high school sweetheart King Dum (Kris Boyer). Worfle (Richelle Garcia) watches as Swashbuck Valpiriso (Jeremiah Scott) finds out the lowly scullery maid is really Princess Prince(Krystal Schnieder). Don't you just love happy endings?

King of Hearts

For the first two periods of class on a specific day before the sweetheart dance, all the girls in the school are given one pink heart. They are told that if they say anything to a guy, they have to give him their heart. The prince of hearts is the guy who has the most hearts at the end of the day. The guy has to make her talk to him in order for the heart to be rightfully his. Imagine how hard it must have been for all the girls not to talk to guys at all. Especially before their boyfriends got a chance to chat with them and steal their heart.

Let's hear it for the king!!
Tony Colombe tries to get the crowd to cheer for the king and queen. A little louder everyone, we still can't hear you.

Guess how many hearts I've got?
Matt Simonsen has the most hearts for the entire freshman class, as well as the entire school.

And the winner is... Coby Marshall announces winners in the prize drawing held at the dance. The lucky winners received prizes like yo-yos, soda, or even a (matchbox) car.

Talent Show

This years talent show was held at the high school on May 20th. It was separate from the grade school's this year to make it shorter. It was also combined with the art show as part of "Arts Night Out". The art students exibited some of their work, and both the band and choir performed. There were also many soloists. The emcee's this year were Jeremiah Scott and Stefanie Moore. Jeremiah entertained the crowd with his corny jokes while Stefanie apologized for his bad jokes. Some of the highlights of the evening were Josh Marshall's Rubber Ducky song, and a surprise performance by Georg Nitsche who sang a very inspiring song from his homeland of Germany.

Singing "Promise To Try", Andrew Dyer gives a good perfrormance.

Telling another one of his "jokes", Jeremiah Scott entertains the audience.

Singing Back-up for Brandi Gittins is Maria Ferrel and Jennifer Sisley.

Putting her heart and soul into it, Bria Frech sings "Angel."

Stylin' Cars

Varoomm m Putt Putt!

How many cents did you buy that for??

It's a wide variety of cars and trucks at Warrenton High School that consume the student parking lot. From George's Blue Beast, to Chad's Convertable. Sadie Hawkins

Horsing some sense into marriage!

This year Sadie Hawkins was a blast! It was great to have it this year since it got canceled last year due to conflicts. The girls took advantage of asking the guy of their dreams to the dance and then getting hitched. The Student League, along with Jeanie Hart, put the dance on. DULLING YOUR SENSE OF PAIN FOR THE

BLOOD DRIVE

The Bloodmobile made its annual stop at Warrenton High School on Tuesday, February 23. Tara Humphries organized the day, by scheduling times for students to donate and volunteer as blood drops. "It was a total success!" said our brave chairwoman, featured here. Altogether, 35 productive units of blood were collected, donated by staff, students, and community members, 27 of which were first time donors.

Which way did it go? Krystal Schneider and David Mitts get ready to be very enthusiastic blood drops, and flag down passersby to urge them to donate blood.

It's not too bad! Eric Uht looks relaxed and almost asleep while he donates his blood.

Making sense of it all in Quiz Bowl

This years super-geniuses were the juniors, who beat the seniors by 20 points after a terrific comeback by the seniors. In third place were the sophomores, and in last place, the freshmen.

Our wonderful judging staff included Ms. Tweed and Mr. Hackwith, and our excellent commentator Mr. Dustin. Jennifer Fisher did the scorekeeping, and Regina Hansen ran the clock.

Our league team was comprised of students from all four class teams: Kris Boyer, Kris Thornhill, Tara Humpheries, Jeremiah Scott, Tony Coloumbe, George Arnall, Leland Billings and Andrew Dyer. These intrepid brain warriors battled against Neah-Kah-Nie, Vernonia, and Knappa for the first place trophy, and brought it home to our happily awaiting cafeteria trophy case.

"I wish they would have had some questions about Stefanie."

-Jeremiah Scott

Don't we look smart? The second place senior Quiz Bowl team was as follows: Jacoby Marshall, Stacey Brim, Kris Boyer, Kris Thornhill, Peter Blodgett, Tara Humpheries, Josh Dunn, Julie Pohl, and advisor Mr. Porter.

Quick, What's the answer? Sophomores Eric Reinoso, Sarah Knippa, Leland Billings, and Meredith Flynn discuss before giving their response.

What? I was wrong? Freshmen Mike Brim, Josh Hollaway, Jeff Weaver, and Andrew Dyer answer their question...incorrectly?

C'mon, guys, we know this! Juniors Zach Lane, David Griesen, Tony Coloumbe, and Andy Holland think hard as they talk about the answer to the question amongst themselves.

"When I See You Smile"

'Its here at last, this night of nights. Sweet music, dancing, soft dimmed lights. So laugh and sing, all hearts be gay. Recall, remember each past school day. Let us pause from our dancing. Remember the past. Our share of memories, always will last. Life's beckoning call, tomorrow we'll meet. But tonight we'll hear only soft dancing feet. These are our memories, our high school years. Our time we've shared, our joys, our fears. This night together may be our last. Farewell to you... my senior class.

Saturday, May 8th was Warrenton High School's prom. The theme this year was "When I See You Smile." Unfortunately, the juniors were unable to find a place to host prom, so it was held at the high school. Many people were disappointed in the location, but made the best of the situation. Despite the location, the decorations turned out wonderfully. Those who attended could hardly tell they were in the gym when they walked through the "park" onto the dance floor. The DJ wasn't the best and the music skipped, but after all, most had a good time. The last song was, "You Look Wonderful Tonight." As couples danced, many seniors realized that this was their last school dance ever... As for the seniors, I hope this was their most memorable prom ever.

Just Crowned, King Josh Marshall and Queen Regina Hansen enjoy their moment in the spotlight, as they dance to the theme song, "When I See You Smile."

This year's prom court: Josh Dunn, Tara Humphries, Queen Regina Hansen, King Josh Marshall, Samantha Claterbos and David Mitts.

Happy to be there, yet happy to leave. It is Eleven-thirty, and the dance has just gotten over. Junior Briita Blair, Junior Ally Gramson, Senior Coby Marshall, and Sophomore Blair Manke smile just before they get ready to hit the road.

What a wonderful night, Seniors, Kris Thornhill and Dayna Plummer will never forget this night for as long as they live.

Above: First Dance Ever, Senior Jared Peeples had never been to a prom before. To show him the ropes Senior Samantha Scott was his date.

Seniors

Sense of Unity

All of these seniors have been together for thirteen years. Throughout these years they have gone through many life changing experiences. They have shared many memories, tears of joy and tears of sorrow, all while watching each other become the people they are today. As high school comes to an end and the road of life forks off, each person must pave their own path. Some will go to college while others start new jobs. As they leave for college some may stay in contact and remain to be friends till the end of time. Some will disappear but will not be forgotten. No matter what happens they will always remember the good and bad that they have shared together.

BACCALAUREATE

Sensing the Higher Power

THE AMERICAN HERITAGE DICTIONARY DEFINES BACCALAUREATE AS:
"A FAREWELL ADDRESS TO THE GRADUATING CLASS IN MOST UNIVERSITIES AND HIGH SCHOOLS."

THE AVERAGE HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT DEFINES BACCALAUREATE AS:
"THAT CHURCH THING AT THE END OF THE YEAR THE NIGHT BEFORE GRADUATION."

This year's Baccalaureate was held at Warrenton Christian Church. It was an emotional evening, with an excellent message and terrific singing. We were moved to tears when Carrie Bergerson sang "Friends," and Josh Marshall had us smiling with his student testimony. Afterwards, we all fellowshipped together downstairs over refreshments, as we realized that graduation was almost upon us. And as we said goodbye at our almost last school function, we hugged each other, and snapped as many photos as we could.

Doesn't he look like a natural? Josh Marshall has us all rolling in the isles with his hilarious--but well thought out--testemony.

I'm so proud of them! Mrs. Gach reminds us of our six wonderful, challenging years together.

"Friends are friends forever..." Carrie Bergerson is moved to tears at the thought of not seeing her longtime friends again.

"I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day."

II Timothy 4:7, 8a

Senior Hall Of Fame

Senior Prophecies

Matt Allen: While taking a stroll, is abducted by a "Woman in White." Lives happily ever after, although he has no idea what happened.

Mollie Anderson Leaves her alternative-rock boyfriend, and becomes a country-western star. She later gave up her carrer to become a Seahawks cheerleader.

Wesley Balensifer: Loads up his truck and moves to Beverly...Hills, that is. Gets confused on his way and spends the next six months residing at Beverly Beach in Newport before someone sets him straight.

Wendy Bandeen: Grows tired of conforming to the norms of society, and becomes a follower of a grunge revival in 2010.

Carrie Bergerson: Discovers the cure for cancer, but can't remember where she wrote down the formula.

Nikki Bergerson-Hoggard: Has six to eight children and they all attend Warrenton High School.

Peter Blodgett Applies for an OSAA hardship, and is granted one more year of athletic eligibility, so he can fulfill his ambition of wrestling for Mr. Warren.

Amy Brewer Confesses her addiction for WWF, and becomes a roadie on the wrestling circuit. She works briefly for Duane Mitts.

Stacey Brim Becomes a legend in the ice skating/skateboarding industry when develops the Bladeboard. He is later revealed as the mastermind behind the Paze-Zamboni commerical.

Amber Brinkerhoff Wins the Daytona 500, and stars in many lucrative promotional ads. Loses her eyebrows in a disastrous lighting accident while filming a PEPSI commerical.

Dominic Brock: Becomes a fish buyer, until he suffers a major hockey accident and loses his memory.

Troy Buganan Marries the lifeguard at the Astoria Pool, Wendy Peffercorn. They have six kids and run the Owl Pharmacy in town.

Jim Cavett Moves to Wisconsin and becomes a spokesperson for the dairy industry. Loses his job for continually missing cues while filming.

Sammy Claterbos Returns to WHS to become an assistant coach for the girl's basketball team, which causes the head coach to lose all his hair.

Rainie Comstock. Finally makes it to Broadway...as the assistant lighting director for Broadway Middle School's production of Cats.

Dezeray Culp: Co-stars with Jet-Li in his third martial arts movie. She suffers a horrible defeat at the hands of Aris "Brickbuster" Boyer in the final scene.

Ronnie Dugan: Becomes a fishing guide, but goes out of business when people realize they won't get anywhere when the guide doesn't have both oars in the water.

Josh Dunn. Finally throws the shotput 50 feet, which annoys the principal who wishes he wouldn't throw it in the hall in the first place.

Maria Ferrell: Becomes the manager of Ferrell's Burger Basket, changes it to a sushi bar, and goes out of business when the buyer can't remember where fish comes from.

Jennifer Fisher Angered when her groom-to-be is late for their wedding, Jennifer races outside, grabs the first guy walking by, and marries him instead.

Roxanne Gonsales: Tries to be loud and obnoxious on her 21st birthday, but fails miserably in the attempt, and goes back to her old quiet ways.

Regina Hansen: Returns to Texas, where her Oregon education permits her to become a supreme Ruler of the Republic. No one else in the state could spell the title, so she ascends by default.

Jasmyne Hogarty: Discovered the Fountain of Youth and decided her senior year was so much fun, she would enroll at a new school every year.

Tara Humphries Wins the Iditarod with a team of genetically altered poodles. Embarrassed race director refuses to proclaim her victory.

Ryan Johnson: Becomes an anger management counselor and a makes a fortune when he introduces his concept of stress relief, which he calls "Smackdown Therapy."

Tenpa Kunga: Integrates rap music with trombone music, and starts a new trend in the music industry, "Trampbone." It's enormously sucessful.

Jeremy Laforteza: Lives to regret ever cruising through the Sunset Beach area.

Brandon Manke: Makes his fortune when he perfects an air-flight system for pets.

Coral Masneri: Waits patiently for her man Brad (Class of 2002) to graduate, so she can marry him and become Coral Reef.

Dustin McGrorty After years of creatine loading, the 350 pounder is forced to become an offensive lineman and never gets his picture in the paper again.

Sensing The End

Rhonda McKibbon: Buys the Warrenton Dairy Queen, and goes out of business when she denounces all beef products as "bad for you," and attempts to sell soy-milk cones and soyburgers instead.

David Mitts: Skips his graduation ceremony to go hunting.

Duane Mills: Buys out Vince McMahon and becomes The Boss, until Stone Cold drops him with a stunner, putting him in a coma for two weeks.

Stefanie Moore: Placed on the front curb of her house on her eighteenth birthday, she desperately waits for the first person to drive by to marry.

Randi Page: Gains employment with the Ice Capades, only to suffer a career ending injury at the hands of a Zamboni driver, who later confesses to be a mere agent for a jealous fellow skater.

Jared Peeples: Is revealed to be the brother of Superman, sent here by their father without the benefits of a Kryptonic education. He's been winging it ever since.

Julie Pohl: Gets deported to Germany when Mr. Mattila, retired from coaching football and now an immigration agent, is convienced she is a foreign exchange student, although she insists she's never been there.

Dayna Plummer: Is in the computer room even as you read this working on the yearbook.

Tara Quashnick: Becomes a Truancy Officer for Clatsop County, breaking all the records for returning truant students to class.

Joe Sakrisson: Buys a twelve-foot speaker and puts a can in it, then drives off to live happily ever after.

Krystal Schneider: Earn a Ph.D. in Aeronautics. That's right. She becomes a rocket scientist.

Samantha Scott: Rebels against society and makes it a point to violate speeding laws in ever state as a form of civil protest. She later becomes a NASCAR driver.

Josh Smith: Buys a 1970 Volkswagen, which he keeps in its original condition. He refuses to drive or buy any other vehicle for the rest of his days.

Roger Stillick: Returns to his native homeland on a flight designed by Dr. Schneider. One there, he begins an intergalactice internet relationship with "Spacey" Stacie Thompson. They marry and live happily ever after.

JoLee Sturgell: Becomes a politican using "I'm JoLee, Trust Me" as a campaign slogan. She later plays the part of K'aa in the Broadway version of "The Jungle Book."

Ryan Thebiay: Become President of the United States of America, proclaiming "Sweet!" when being told of his victory. His political advisor punishes him for such a foolish exclamation by making him put his nose on the "W" of the White House entryway.

Jocelyn Thomas: Becomes a diesel mechanic in Portland, and cruises around the state in the cummer on her customized (chopped and lowered) Buick Rivera.

Kris Thornhill: Deliberately fails his last required class for ten consecutive years in order to win the dress-up competition for Homcoming 1999 through 2008.

Rigzin Topgyal: Becomes a playground Basketball legend with Ryan "The Stork" Everson to form the greatest two-on-two in Oregon history.

Kris Tucker: Reigns for ten years as the king of the court in the professional beach volleyball circuit. He writes a workout book entitled "Tuckered Out: Thirty Naps To A Healthier Body."

Eric Uht: Become a Zamboni driver, but is fired after his souped-up zamboni rams an Ice Capader. In an astounding discovery, he is revealed as a partner with a renegade skater.

Daniel Varozza: Open up "Danny V's" the jumpingest dance joint in West Clatsop County. He hires Keith Huges to serve as a doorman/bouncer after he has to kick out Jean-Claude Van Damme and his unruly Hollywood friends who are filming a movie in Hammond. Huges muscles up and does the job.

Sunny Ward: Is still working at the Visitor's Information Center in Warrenton. She also authored a book, "Getting to know the North Coast of Oregon: The Place and People." Book highlights include a section on members of her senior class at WHS.

Tim Welch: Straightens his hair, dyes it black, and returns to high school, where he enrolls in classes and spends his spare time in the computer room.

Dalina Young: Gains fame as a talk show host when she reveals that her episodes are staged. Unsurprisingly, her viewership does not drop.

Kim Zorich: Changes her name to Alison Aaron, and spends the rest of her life making up for the pain of "alphabetical order syndrome." She never again waits in line or sits in the back corner of the class.

Coby Marshall: Loses game seven of the World Series when he allegedly suffers an injury caused by stepping in a hole while missing a grounder.

Josh Marshall: Becomes the new American role model when he popularizes the Alfalfa look in colleges across the country. He marries Emily Keen, who dons a dress, bows in her hair, and Mary Jane's (the shoes) on her feet and changes her name to Darla.

Zach Marshall: Works for a time as a lighting specialist in Hollywood. After losing that job,he makes a living doing cartoon voices.

The Class of '99

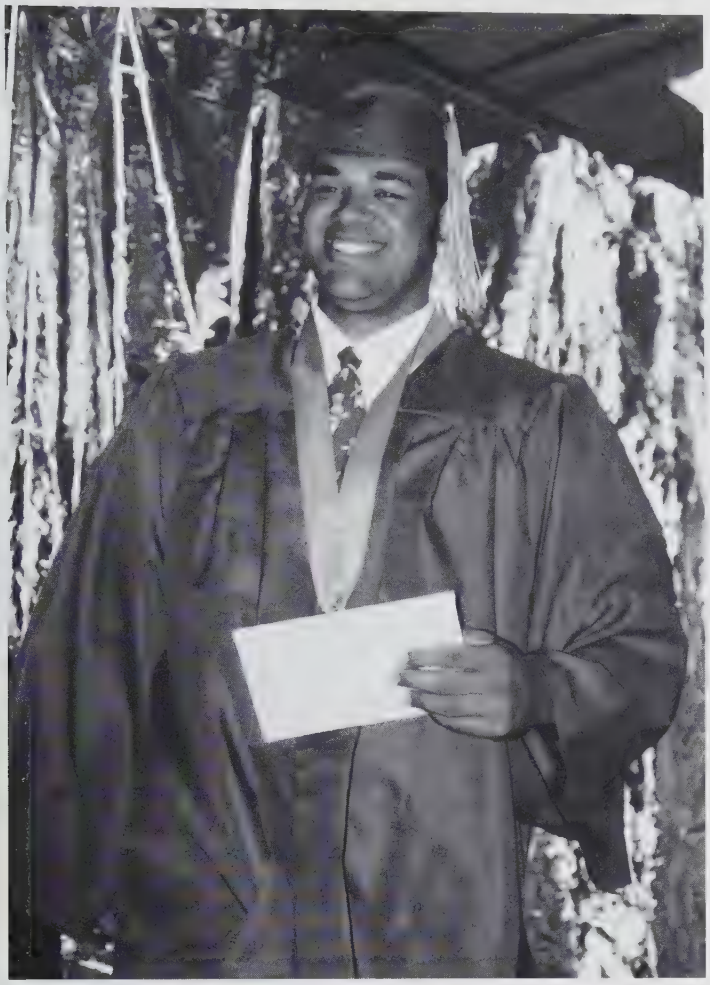
Sense their way into the future

The special night has finally arrived, the entire class of 1999 sit together for one final moment of unity.

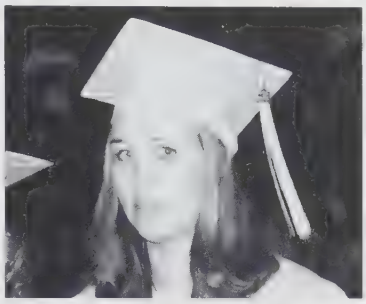
"Ladies and gentlemen of the class of '99... WEAR SUNSCREEN

Enjoy the power and beauty of your youth. Never mind. You will not understand the power and beauty of your youth until they have faded. But trust me, in 20 years you'll look back at photos of yourself and recall in a way you can't grasp now how much possibility lay before you and how fabulous you really looked."

Smiling proudly, Dominic Brock turns to the audience after being handed his diploma.



Graduates of the class of 1999: Ronnie Dugan, Krystal Schneider, Jasmine Hoggarty, Joe Sakkrison, Ryan Johnson and Roxanne Gonzales.



Giving congratulations, Graduate Josh Marshall receives a big hug and a dip from his little brother Aaron.

Their first steps into the future, Kris Thornhill and Kris Boyer take their walk down the purple carpet.

Congratulations to the Class of 1999

Right: Giving good luck to the future, Samantha Scott receives a hug from her friend Xabie Valez.

Playing pool together is Carrie Bergerson, Jennifer Fisher, and Mollie Anderson.

Trying to catch a few minutes of sleep is Jocelyn Thomas in the movie theater.

Passing everyone by at the skating rink is Stacey Brim and Ryan Thebiay.

All bottled up is Tim Cavette stuck inside of a huge Surge bottle.

This layout was designed by Jocelyn Thomas and Julie Fitzpatrick. Pictures were donated by Rainie Comstock.

Struggling to stay awake, Zach Marshall lays next to his brand new microwave.

Senior Night Out '99

Senior Night Out was sponsored and put on by the dedicated parents of the WHS Class of '99. After the graduation ceremony, part of the class went to Lower Columbia Bowl for a few hours of bowling. Then the rest of the went to Tongue Point for karaoke, roller skating, basketball, volleyball, and many other games. There was prizes for the winners of the games. The all nighter ended at 6:30 the next day, when all the Seniors were tiredly taken home. The parents raised enough money to give awesome gifts. Everyone had tons of fun and give thanks to all the people who made it possible.

Singing karaoke for the class is Krystal Schnieder.

Long time friends, Rainie Comstock and Ryan Johnson keep each other awake.

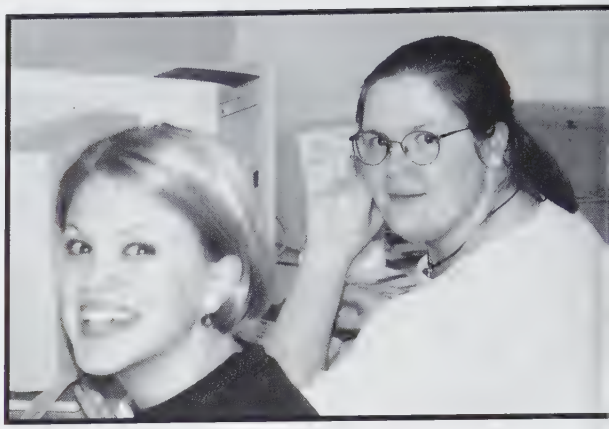
YEARBOOK

This is it, the finished product. We had plenty of frustrations, but a whole lot of fun, too, as we put this together for you. We hope we did an all right job, and that the time and effort we put into it was worth it. We would like to extend a great big thank you to all of the student body, who posed for our pictures, and made it all possible.

Yearbook put us in the loony bin! Our Fearless Editor Dayna Plummer and Dauntless Business Manager Jocelyn Thomas show the adverse results of a year in the Annual Class.



Working hard! Two of our hardest workers, Dru Mickelson and Samantha Scott, look up form their computers. You really were working, weren't you?

Hardly Working? Lib Thompson and Er Reinoso show the future the yearbook. With the two in charge, who nee class clowns?

Panic Attack! Emily Johnson looks a little confused about what she is working on.

This is the way we crop a picture... Julie Pohl demonstrates how much fun it is to crop pitures in yearbook. It must be fun, with the smile on her face!

This'll be awesome! Sarah Knippa, Tonya McCoy, and Julie Fitzpatrick work together on a layout.

I'm working, really! Tara Smith shows how people look between layouts.
